FOOD MARKET KLASS

PH: ZAKHAR OVDIENKO

Every element of this food court was created with an eye for detail because we believe true comfort emerges where functionality meets aesthetics.

Ashwood tables are more than just furniture – they are a living story told through the natural grain of the wood. Sturdy metal frames ensure durability that stands the test of time. Retail islands, constructed with chipboard frames and quartz countertops, introduce a touch of understated luxury, while planters made from metal and chipboard bring natural harmony into the space.

But the true character of this project lies in its bold accents. Velvet chairs in deep emerald and rich blue hues add expressiveness to the interior, filling it with life. They not only complement the overall concept but also elevate guests' moods, transforming an ordinary break into a moment of aesthetic pleasure.

At Roomio, we are creators of new realities. Every project is both a challenge and an opportunity to surpass ourselves. We don't just manufacture furniture – we redefine comfort, boldly experimenting and bringing the most ambitious ideas to life. Our mission is to craft furniture that becomes part of great stories.

An open shelving unit is the perfect solution for enhancing an interior without overwhelming the space. Thanks to a combination of several manufacturing techniques, it stands out with a unique character and contemporary aesthetics.

A blend of painted and veneered MDF, a slim plinth, and delicate shelves lend the structure lightness and elegance, softening the overall strictness of its form. Brass inserts with LED lighting create a warm ambiance and add a touch of sophistication to the interior.

Every detail matters: Blum hinges, Blaze brass handles, and Italiana Ferramenta supports emphasize thoughtful ergonomics and style, transforming the shelving unit into not just a functional piece but also an aesthetically appealing interior element.
